

Learn suicide intervention skills and help prevent the immediate risk of suicide

Attend this training and learn to apply a suicide intervention model. It will help you recognise when someone may be at risk of suicide.

You will learn how to explore and connect with a person in ways that help you to understand and clarify the risk, increase their immediate safety and link them with further help.

ASIST is founded on the principle that everyone can make a difference in preventing suicide. The more people in the community who have suicide intervention training, the more likely it is they will be able to identify someone at risk and intervene to keep them safe.

Workshop Features:

- Presentations and guidance from two LivingWorks registered trainers
- A scientifically proven intervention model
- Powerful audiovisual learning aids
- Group discussions
- Skills practice and development
- A balance of challenge and safety
